It's not their war. But it's becoming their political and economic nightmare.

World leaders who opposed the US-Israeli attack on Iran are being torn between Donald Trump's ire at their failure to join the conflict and electorates who are deeply hostile to the war and America's president. ...

Leaders who once tried to appease and flatter the world's most powerful man are now daring to criticize him and seeking distance. They are doing so not just out of antipathy to American foreign policy, but also because of war-related pressures threatening the livelihoods of their people, and therefore their own governments and careers. ...

In a highly confrontational address to the UN Security Council, Russian Permanent Representative Vassily Nebenzia accused the European Union and foreign policy chief Kaja Kallas of deliberately escalating the Ukraine conflict and preparing for a major war with Moscow. Dismissing European diplomatic efforts as hypocritical, Nebenzia alleged that the EU is funneling weapons to extremists, engaging in systemic corruption, and transitioning into a "new Reich." The fiery rhetoric underscores deepening geopolitical fractures between Russia and the West, raising fresh alarms over global security and the collapse of international mediation efforts.

EURACTIV – April 14, 2026 - Germany and Ukraine conclude defence agreements on missiles, drones and the exchange of operational data

Zelenskyy has long advocated for more support, especially in the area of air defense, as the country continues to face drone and missile attacks from Russia on a daily basis.

Germany and Ukraine on Tuesday signed a new defence cooperation agreement aimed at strengthening Kyiv’s air defence, long-range weapons and ammunition.

Nico Krisch, Professor für Völkerrecht am Genfer Hochschulinstitut für internationale Studien und Entwicklung, erläuterte auf Multipolar-Anfrage hingegen, dass die deutsche Erlaubnis US-Militärbasen in Deutschland für einen Angriffskrieg gegen den Iran zu nutzen, „selbst eine (indirekte) Aggression“ darstelle. Dabei könne sich die Bundesrepublik nicht zur Rechtfertigung auf mit den USA oder anderen Staaten abgeschlossene Verträge wie das Nato-Truppenstatut berufen. Diese seien „irrelevant“. Ein Staat könne sich dem Verbot der Gewaltanwendung nicht dadurch entziehen, dass er mit einem anderen Staat ein Abkommen schließt, erläuterte Krisch. ...

OVERTON – April 13, 2026 - "Disinformation is the truth of the wrong people."

Who actually decides what is true? Norbert Häring claims that an entire system of institutions and "fact-checkers" controls the discourse. And he proves it in his new book .

... There is ample evidence for this. Influential organizations like the Atlantic Council have published guidelines for building this complex. The EU has followed these recommendations. It has explicitly stated its intention to build and promote this NGO complex, for example, a network of fact-checkers. And that is precisely what it has done. Furthermore, there is a framework for classifying disinformation operations and countermeasures, aptly named DISARM. This was developed on behalf of the US military. According to an agreement between the EU and the US government, it is the official instrument used to coordinate the exchange of information between government agencies and NGOs within the truth complex. ...

Tagesschau – 6. April 2026 - Teilnehmerzahl steigt kaum - trotz kritischer Weltlage

In mehr als 100 Orten in Deutschland wurde bei den Ostermärschen für Abrüstung demonstriert. Die Veranstalter äußern sich zufrieden, räumen aber auch ein: Angesichts der kritischen Weltlage wäre eine höhere Beteiligung "wünschenswert".

Die Teilnehmerzahl sei damit "auf dem Niveau des Vorjahres mit einer leichten Tendenz der Steigerung" gewesen. Die Infostelle Ostermarsch sprach von bundesweit über 120 Aktionen. RESPONSIBLE STATECRAFT – March 31, 2026 - Is the Iran War breaking NATO forever?

Trump is lashing out at allies as European partners increasingly turn away from his war — all signs that this is more than just a situational divide

In the view of General de Gaulle, "Treaties are like young girls and roses; they last while they last." By that standard, the North Atlantic Treaty Organization seems to be wilting pretty fast. The Israeli-U.S. war on Iran has opened up (or revealed) divisions that may prove fatal.

This week, in the first call of its kind from the European right, Tino Chrupalla, federal spokesman of Germany's Alternative For Germany (AFD) party, declared, "Let's begin to put into practice what our party manifesto says: the withdrawal of all U.S. troops from Germany." He said that Germany cannot call itself a truly sovereign country while it hosts foreign bases over which it has no real control. ...
